SHORT DESCRIPTION

This guide offers straightforward policy suggestions to help create more green jobs for young people around the world. It shares ideas for governments, teachers, and organizations to support young people in gaining the skills and opportunities they need to thrive in the green economy.

SUGGESTIONS

This guide can be used by policymakers, educators, career advisors, and youth organizations to design strategies that promote youth employment in the green economy. It is particularly suitable for integration into vocational training, policy development workshops, and employment programs focused on sustainability and inclusion. Educators and trainers can draw on the guide to shape curricula that equip young people with the skills needed for emerging green sectors. It is also useful in youth employment forums, climate education campaigns, and government planning sessions to align national strategies with SDG and climate goals.
